Kenzinc LLC and The Scoopie LLC Announce License Agreement

The Scoopie LLC has acquired a license to manufacture and sell funneled scoops, which allow users to pour liquid or powdered product into their containers without the mess using Kenzinc llc's US patent 7,441,676, Kenzinc sells scoops under the trademark Scoop E-Z.

Easton, CT; Kenzinc llc today announces that it has entered into a licensing agreement with The Scoopie LLC (Formally Known as imblowingup llc) of Humble TX. Under the terms of the agreement The Scoopie LLC has acquired the rights to the manufacturer and sell funneled scoop products covered under Kenzinc llc's US Patent 7,441,676.

Kenzinc llc, CEO Drew Pickering Jr. is the pioneer in the funnel scoop market, developing and patenting Scoop E-Z in 2005. Mr. Pickering claims "We have always been looking for a partner to license our technology to and Mr. Jarred Allen and Ms. Tiffany Upshaw of The Scoopie LLC have filled the gap of additional volumes, sizes and quality that Kenz was searching for". Mr. Pickering adds "We look forward to continued growth by both companies licensing the 7,441,676 patent". The Scoopie llc Jarred Allen and Tiffany Upshaw

Under the terms of the license both parties have agreed to keep the terms confidential.

The agreement became effective in the second quarter of 2016 and will continue through the life of the 676' patent.
